TELEGRAMS

(By Havas Agency)

Lisbon, 28th—The negotiations for a loan for this country are progressing favourably.

Brussels, 29th—The Chamber of Representatives has commenced the debate on the Labour Bills, and there is a decided majority in favour of a general reform.

GOLD AT 400.

Lord Rothschild and his London friends gravely assured the financial world that as soon as a Moratoribus loan could be arranged for Argentina, to relieve the Government of the necessity to remit funds quarterly in payment of coupons during a term of three years the gold premium would at once fall to 40 per cent, that is the market quotation (as we understand it here) would be 140. That was only 5 months ago, gold being then at 300.

The loan Moratoribus has been carried out, and yet the quotation, so far from falling to 140, has risen to 400. How is it that Lord Rothschild made so flagrant a mistake? He is one of the foremost bankers in the world, and had studied Argentine affairs carefully before venturing to make such a prediction.

We pointed out in these columns at the time that the Rothschild theory was a delusion, and that in effect the Moratoribus loan would hardly affect the price of gold in Buenos Ayres. It is our firm conviction that the value of the shinplaster depends wholly, or almost wholly, on the amount of existing paper-money. The quantity of bullion that may or may not be in Buenos Ayres is a very secondary consideration. The country needs a certain amount of currency consistent with its trade and population, and any excess of shinplasters must cause a corresponding depreciation, totally irrespective of debt, finances or anything else.

It is, moreover, notorious that whenever a country finds itself afflicted with inconvertible paper-money no human power can prevent gold and silver from taking flight. If we were in a position to import from Europe a sum of gold equal to the capital of the Bank of England, say 14 millions sterling (and unable to rid ourselves of an inconvertible currency) the whole of the amount would in less than a year find its way back to Europe.

The time may come when the stock of gold in Buenos Ayres shall be much less even than it is at present, without any appreciable difference in the value of the paper-dollar, unless the issue be increased. Or, vice-versa, the stock of gold may increase, but be attended with no improvement to the shin-plaster.

A temporary effect may be produced by importing a large amount of specie, or by exporting it, but the market will before long find its level, just as if such movements of bullion had never taken place.

If the value of the shinplasters depended, as Lord Rothschild supposes, on the quantity of bullion in a country the paper-money of such countries as Italy and the U. States would have fallen much lower than it did when those countries were suffering from inconvertible currency. The premium in Italy was highest in 1873, when the Kingdom was drained of specie, and yet it did not exceed 15 per cent. But if the Italian Government had doubled the amount of currency that year the premium would have risen to 100 per cent or more.

In the United States in 1864 the pressure of the war had compelled the Government to emit Greenbacks profusely, and as a consequence the premium on gold in that year averaged 105 per cent. The amount of bullion in the country had nothing to do with the matter.

In the Argentine Republic the amount of paper money in 1886 was 70 millions, and the average gold quotation for the year was 139. At present we have 270 millions and the gold quotation is at 400. If we could reduce the stock of paper money to-morrow to 150 millions the gold quotation in less than 3 months would be somewhere between 200 and 250.

It has been customary in Buenos Ayres for Finance ministers and others to tell us that the gold premium is regulated by the amount of public confidence existing in the market. Confidence is not a concrete commodity like rice or sugar that can be weighed or measured; it is an abstract quality.

But paper-money can be counted by the million, and as the quantity rises or falls its value will be in inverse ratio. "Public confidence" is a poetical phrase that may sound pleasant to the ear, but its effect on inconvertible paper-money is ephemeral.

THE SITUATION.

In spite of all the good intentions of President Pellegrini and his Ministers, it is our ungrateful task to state that affairs are going from bad to worse. There was quite a panic in the market yesterday and the majority traced the immediate causes of same to political distrust. The Cordoba revolution has shaken the confidence of the President of the Republic, in his telegram to the Cordoba clergy, and of the Minister of the Interior in Congress have created wide-spread alarm. Both the President and his Home Secretary have told the country that the Cordoba revolution is merely part of a terrible conspiracy to convulse the whole country. Minister Zapata went further; he stated in Congress that the Government were acquainted with the general features of this conspiracy, that it was intimately connected with this capital, and that the conspirators had attempted to suborn the troops of the Line. Such declarations are apt to make people shudder at the idea that the country is on a volcano on the eve of eruption. The money market is necessarily panic-stricken and the whole country, is shuddering at the future.

Add to the above the general opposition with which the new Bank Bill meets, not only in the columns of the Press, but in Congress; the uncertainty with which all watch the erratic movements of that august body and its dreaded gravitation towards fresh issues; the noisy and even jocose opposition of the Deputies to the policy of the Executive, and the ungentlemanly manner in which the recent interpellation was conducted, when a Minister of State was snubbed by the Chamber. The market watches all these symptoms of decomposition and wonders what chaotic results will follow. To make matters worse, people who ought to know begin to doubt if Generals Roca and Mitre will be able to weld their parties into the conciliation policy. Some say that General Mitre will resign; others maintain that the popular party will not listen to any compromise; in fact, one would believe that the whole political fabric so patiently built up since the 6th of August is tottering and falling to pieces. There is a Nemesis at work in this plot of demolition that Argentines must have the courage to stamp out at any cost; it is the Nemesis of disorder, and as long as it stalks this fair land there will be no hope of reform or reorganization. The conservative elements must assert their supremacy over those of dissolution and discord—to this effect the conciliation policy was framed; if it fails, let all trust to Providence to redress the balance.

Apart from political distrust, there are many financial causes to account for yesterday's panic. It is an axiom that a baser currency drives away a better one, and the scarcity of gold in this market is a clear proof of it. The only gold reserves are now to be found in the private banks, and they cannot afford to lend it out: they always keep gold on hand to meet all their gold engagements, and herein they are wise, as any emergency may develop in these times of panic. This scarcity of gold is daily evidenced on the Bolsa: yesterday, for instance, there were moments when not a single seller of gold was visible at the ring: the result was a meteoric rise. We mayhere remark that a stringency of paper money is becoming inevitable in view of the awful state of the market; all the private banks will be obliged to take in sail, restrict discounts, and accumulate large reserves. Thus on the heels of a scarcity of gold we shall be made to feel all the Procrustean torture of a scarcity of paper money. Business under such circumstances is becoming daily more paralyzed, and this sad state of affairs must continue until both political and financial distrust are swept away by a vigorous blast of patriotism and radical reform. Until then the market will linger in a state of trepidation, in daily apprehension of fresh political eventualities and financial disruption.

All stocks fell headlong in yesterday's panic, and we regret to think that they must fall still lower, as the so-called panic is likely to continue, so far as a rise in the gold premium is concerned. The wonder is, how Cedulas of the Province of Buenos Ayres manage to keep up in the vicinity of 40%, for the disclosures of the Governor of the Province in his Message to the Chambers would lead one to suppose that they are not worth that price. There are however, numerous interests at stake in these Provincial Cedulas; it will be remembered that when the Western Railway was sold lastyear and a new National Cabinet was formed in the month of April, a gigantic speculation, with ramifications in London, burst out, and millions upon millions of these provincial Cedulas were bought up at 70%, gold premium standing at 150% or more. Since then the stock has fallen like lead and the speculation is tottering under the enormous weight and depreciation of the unfortunate stock. The collapse of the La Plata Mortgage Bank has brought misery on thousands of small investors and will yet seal the doom of the heavy investors who have not been able to unburden on the public and are fighting hard to support the market and themselves. When we chronicle a collapse in Cedulas, we need not add that Catalinas and Constructors "et hoc genus omne" fell considerably depressed, worth next to nothing.

THE SORROWS OF THE POOR.

Last week a poor man named Matthew Daly, 21 years of age, came into our office, in great distress. He had been two years in the country, and saved 250 dollars while working on railway earthworks in Santa Fé. Coming to Buenos Ayres in search of employment, when the railway that he was on was completed, he went everywhere in search of employment, but in vain, until his last dollar was gone.

He was the son of a small farmer in Westmeath, and his first experience in the River Plate was favorable, but his health broke down, his savings melted away, and but for the kindness of one of the ladies interested in the Napostá Colony and of the British Consul he might have died in the street. He was sent to the British Hospital, but the hand of Death was already on him.

His last few days were attended with every comfort that his case admitted, and he died on Wednesday. We may add that the Very Rev. Father Constantine wrote yesterday to his father to assure him that the poor young lad had received every attention medical and spiritual.

This poor fellow's case may serve as a lesson to many of the same class in Ireland who may think of coming to this country during the crisis. He was industrious and deserving, but reduced to direst poverty by the times. He shewed us with gratitude a pair of boots that Mrs X had given him, and expected to be able to leave the hospital in a fortnight. Hunger and exposure, however, had done their work, and the medical report shews that he died of consumption.

VICTORIA CONVALESCENT HOME.

The report for the year 1890 is very satisfactory, and may be summed up as follows:—

The committee comprises Messrs. John Drysdale, Barrow, Mohr Bell, Carlisle, Fennessy, Huxtable, Oyler, Rev. Mr. Ogle, Rev. Mr. Fleming and Dr. Mackern. The number of patients admitted compares with the returns of 1889 as follows:—

	Patients.	Days.
1889.	99	1,064
1890.	137	1,748

The patients in 1890 were as follows:

Men	96	Free	73
Women	41	Paying	44
Total	137		137

In spite of the crisis the report shows a satisfactory increase both in revenue and in the number of patients. The annual subscriptions received were:—

London and R. Plate Bank	300
H. G. Anderson	150

From A. Bowen $60; from Messrs. Hallett, Stevenson, Samson, John Drysdale, Mohr Bell, Crowther, Donne, J O Hall, Carlisle, Huxtable, Gebbie; Best, Oyler, John Campbell, Ravenscroft and Shaw Miller $50 each. From Mrs. Crowther $25; Rev. Mr Spilsbury $20, Rev. Mr. Pinchard $10, and Messrs Drabble $10; besides donations from Messrs. Pollard, Sanders and Mullins; making in all $1,740. The balance-sheet shews thus:

Subscriptions	1,740
Fees from patients..	2,079
Interest on capital..	4,569
Total.....	8,388
Wages and salaries	4,130
Food, &c.....	2,978
Balance ou hand....	1,280
Total.....	8,388

There was a balance brought forward from 1889 of $8,105, making the total on hand $9,385. Dr. Mackern's report says:—

"In spite of a much larger number of patients, an unusually hot summer and a change in the Home management the results for the year 1890 have been eminently satisfactory. The proportion of convalescents from typhoid fever has been less than last year, and the general list of diseases shows a greater variety, still we have had no relapses; and the healthiness of the Home and its surroundings has been well put to the test. The recent severe epidemic of small-pox sent us many convalescents, but a full enquiry into each case and the use of a judicious control have prevented any abuse being made of the advantages of the Home. To Dr. Hiron, who kindly filled my place during my absence in Europe, my best thanks are due."

The Committee gratefully acknowledge the many favours received which have made the management of the Home a comparatively easy task; in more than one instance where extensive repairs have been necessary, the same have not only been well done, but all pecuniary remuneration has been refused, and the thanks of the Committee are specially due to Mr. Pollard in this respect.

The Committee invite the subscribers and their friends to visit the Home for themselves, so that it may become more generally known, and its many advantages for the weary in body and mind the better appreciated.

THE NEW BANK.

Mr. Editor,

It would seem incredible that with every inducement and obligation to be up and stirring no one of our legislature seems to apprehend that there is the least cause for timely and energetic action.

Thus in the case of the banking and currency question, in which a fundamental and ruthless change of procedure is a paramount necessity, we appear to get no further than the timid proposal of some complicated or semi-worthless scheme in which any future good that might be extracted from it starts heavily handicapped by an unstatesmanly attempt to make it the means of bolstering up the existing currency or of trammelling it with the insolvency of the State banks.

The government scheme is of course impossible for several reasons that no capitalist would consent to. Moreover, to what purpose could any institution of the kind be started whose capital consisted either wholly or in part of the despised and degenerated shinplaster; capital with no fixed, but an ever declining value. Had the gold portion of the proposed capital been designed to guarantee the paper, one might have understood the drift of the proposition; but I doubt if any capitalist would have been venturesome enough to go in for such wholesale risk.

If any improvement is to be made at all it should be done thoroughly, and the whole of the currency put on a gold basis. This could only be brought about by subscribing the capital of the new bank in gold only. The amount, taking into consideration future requirements, could not be less than $100,000,000 gold (with power to increase) though for years probably not more than one third part of that amount would need to be paid up. The shareholders then would stand in the position of guarantors or under-writers for the remainder.

Such a measure would enable the board to issue, for working purposes, on the security of the say one third capital paid up, at least $60,000,000 in convertible paper which could be exchanged for shinplasters either immediately, or gradually, at the current prices of the day; but it should be compulsory that at least a proportion paid into whatsoever bank of any deposit money after a certain date should be periodically converted. The shinplasters exchanged to be burnt forthwith.

With regard to the election of the board of directors, the only satisfactory way would be for the shareholders to have votes in proportion to the number of shares held by them; and in order to give all would-be subscribers an interest in the institution proportionate to their application for shares, if the capital were over subscribed, each should receive an allotment proportional to the whole subscription offered.

The new bank would require to have sole authorization of issuing paper money, whose amount from time to time should be determined by act of Congress on the petition of the board, as business required; the calls on shares corresponding with every new issue until the maximum permitted under the charter were reached.

A half yearly audit of the accounts to be made by a mixed commission consisting of one third appointed by the board, one third by the shareholders, and one third by the Government; their joint report being duly published.

Unless an honest looking and above-board scheme be adopted, satisfactory in every respect to those who are invited to invest their money in it, it would be useless to endeavour to place any shares at par; and if that could not be done the new bank would commence operations by being virtually "in debt."

So long as the hallucination prevails of trying to bring the National Bank back to the paths of virtue and solvency by requisitions on the property of its successor we must expect to find no exit from the financial dilemna that we are in. It is simply iniquitous to insist on blighting the prospects of the new bank by saddling it with any portion of the obligations of the old one. If the State banks were granted time for liquidation and the existing currency were destroyed, as I have suggested, their securities should rise considerably in value later on, and such a progressive movement for the better ought to materially help in the liquidation, especially if it were based upon present values. Time transactions with those banks would then turn out much more lucrative and satisfactory than an immediate settlement of their accounts; but if the new bank could be of any service in the matter it should not be made obligatory but should be left to proceed from the spontaneous and amicable understanding of the interested parties on both sides.

Lastly would have to be considered what guarantee of business the new bank would have. At present all the cream of the Republic's monetary affairs may be assumed to be in the hands of the existing private banks, whose clients probably are and will remain sufficiently satisfied with their working and security.

There would only remain then, at least temporarily, what business could be gleaned from the wrecks of the moribund State banks, which would be very insufficient to repay investors in the new bank for the risky and Herculean task which they would be expected to perform.

Yours very obediently
A. H. W.

ONR LONDON LETTER.

ODDS AND ENDS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

May 1st.

Manipur, silent and deserted, is occupied by the Gourkhas and the three columns of British Indian troops forming the "punitive expedition," which have been converging during the last week or two towards a spot now almost as melancholy in history as Cawnpore. Mrs. Grimwood, who seems to the heroine in this last episode in British Indian history, has written letters you may find room to reprint, as they give a jolly, plucky, honest English girl's account of the whole business—a very sad one. Poor Quinton—whose head, with the heads of his fellow officers who were killed, was found in a pile of heads in the courtyard of the empty palace—is acknowledged even by the Times, who sticks up for officials in general, to have grossly mismanaged the whole affair; and, indeed, we are waiting to hear what Lord Landsdowne and the people at Calcutta have to say for themselves. It is known that Mr. Quinton had an audience with Lord Landsdowne before going as Chief Commissioner to Manipur. It appears that either on his own authority or according to orders from Calcutta he went with the deliberate intention of kidnapping the Senaputi. When this person was asked to attend a Durbar, and saw the British sentinels posted around the place, he began to suspect some trick. The end was, as you know, that he kidnapped Quinton and poor Skene and others. Such intended trickery on Quinton's part is inconsistent with English ideas in love and war. We can say that much for our countrymen. Our authority for the history of the affair is, so far, Mrs. Grimwood only. She says, her poor husband and herself, when at the Residency, were on the best of terms with the Senaputi, who was most kind to them, and had just invited Grimwood to a shooting party. Grimwood, in a most mysterious manner, without any explanation vouchsafed by Quinton, was asked to kidnap his friend.

Harper of this month dedicates two articles to the River Plate: one by Bishop Walden on the Religious and Educational Institutions in the Argentine, and another by the redoubtable "Theoc" on Uruguay, but chiefly about the city of Montevideo.

Bishop Walden is precise, factiferous, and slow. Mr. Child, as soon as he met the salt water at the Mount, guessed he was nearing home and grew serious, but without the bilious complications he betrayed when in Buenos Ayres. He gives a most new and correct account—but not as we might have hoped from his pen—a sketch or picture of the Queen City and her territory. He leaves the pictorial part to the photographer and engraver. Both are excellent. Mr. Child's principal complaint in regard to Montevideo is that in the winter evenings there is nothing to do. Of course. It is more or less the same everywhere else when we are strangers in a town. It is so in London itself to some extent, and particularly to foreigners. Perhaps Paris and Vienna are the only two cities in the world which are never dull, excepting for a few days in the height of the summer. New York is horrid; and so is Berlin; and so are Melbourne, Manchester, Sydney, Glasgow and all commercial places. The great evil of Montevideo and Buenos Ayres which oppresses the stranger and even the resident more than any other cause is the leagues and leagues of hopelessness beyond their walls.

Mr. Child's statistical information seems very carefully collected and he has the art of imparting it without wearying his readers. He has abandoned the "World's" Paris correspondence to attend, as he says, to "less entertaining duties." I wonder if he is going to get married. We shall be all glad to hear that he is sick of it and has returned to his letters in the "World." There is no one like him for Parisian life and literature of the hour. George Moore approaches him; but Moore is too Heinesh and he writes seldom.

* * * *

Mr. Blowitz of the Times has for once in his life been led astray. You are aware that an ukase has gone forth banishing the Jews from Russia. Now that the Passover has gone by, we may expect a vast Semitic emigration westward and Governments are alarmed. To increase this alarm Mr. Blowitz drew a gloomy picture of Jewish life at the East end of London, where he told us, Jews were already sold by their countrymen as slaves at £2 a head to task-masters who gave them 2s. per week and fed them on garbage. The Hebrew Pastor in Bethnal Green, Herr Adler, has written to the Times to flatly deny these assertions, and the editor in a leading article administers chastisement to his redoubtable correspondent, who, it is thought, has been prompted by Baron Hirch, who is willing to subscribe royally himself and wants to get the wealthy Jews in England to assist him in providing free passages to America, Algiers and other places for the refugees from Russia.

The French freetraders are plucking up courage and are going to make a fight for their "cause." It is becoming evident that the bulk of consumers even in France are opening their eyes to the obvious truths that they are sacrificed to the greed of a few large manufacturers and landowners. Protectionism is beginning to be ridiculous in France. In that country ridicule kills quicker than argument. The cynical openness with which the different interests clamour for the protection of themselves at the expense even of their fellow-protectionists in other lines of business is too absurd for the most petty-minded and chauvinistic of Frenchmen who retains a spark of the national "esprit." It will soon be the same in the United States, where the McKinleyites have given to themselves a grand banquet, at which everything, to table-napkins, salt-spoons and knives and forks, was warranted to be of American manufacture. It is not stated if the knives cut, but in all probability they had American trade-marks and were smuggled without paying any duty, or only a little one, from Germany. Protection is an arch-breeder of corruption, and corruption in the United States Customs seems to thrive like bacilli in pus. The New York Herald states that "the detectives at the New York Custom House yesterday seized, on the ground of undervaluation, forty-three cases of the finest Parisian dresses, which had been consigned to various dressmakers in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other cities. The Herald adds that the New York agents of the importer, whose firm has branches in London, Paris and Lyons, have succeeded for the last two or three years in getting goods passed at the appraisers' stores at an under-valuation often of about 300 per cent. Consequently the consignees were defrauded, as well as the Government, if they paid duties far higher than those at which the consignors had been assessed. The Treasury is likely to take official cognizance of the failure of the appraisers' men to detect undervaluation at 75 dols. a piece of dresses worth 500 dols."

Yes, it is all of a piece. You were not the first and you were not alone, if that be a consolation to you in Buenos Aires; but you see how Protection incites to robbery, and has been robbery from the beginning. It is the essence of individualism and savagery, and of what Draper called geocentricism, representing a state of mind fitted at least only to the middle ages. Protectionists may call themselves Democrats or Republicans or Socialists, but as a type they are a thing of the past, gutted and withered, a scare-crow in the path of history. Blaine! Yes, Blaine. They have trotted him out again. "Never would he," he says, "be a candidate for the Presidency." No, virtuous man; but he wants to go in for the re-election of Harrison, whom he seems to find convenient. The Behring Sea business—that is to say the business in seas, in which we are informed Mr. Blaine is a partner with the scalskin people Elkins and Co.—is not progressing as well as Lord Salisbury's polite efforts to please the United States Government would warrant. The reason is not political. The people Elkins and Co. want another fifteen months' "catch," and then if there be any seals left in Behring Sea or Straits, open them, by all means, to the Britisher or Germans, or anybody you please. There you have "interests" in their nude beauty. Lord Salisbury himself talked the other day of "private rights" and his party—protectionist in soul—is based upon "interests." French interests are becoming ridiculous, American interests, odious, and English interests!—are they a whit better? All of a piece Sir; all of a piece.

The St. James's Gazette says:—

"Weighty, because they come from a judge whose experience of matrimonial causes is not rivalled by many living men, are the terms of Lord Penzance's letter in the Times on the Law of Husband and Wife, as explained by the judgment in the Jackson case, and as modified by the Act abolishing the penalty for the contumacious refusal of conjugal rights. If either party to a marriage contract is entitled to repudiate at pleasure the obligations voluntarily undertaken, the result will be, Lord Penzance argues, to greatly increase the number of unhappy marriages. "It is the knowledge that man and wife must live together that induces both to make that life as tolerable as mutual concession can make it." Many couples who will shrink from the scandal of an open separation will play every day of their lives the dreary farce of Mr. and Mrs. Naggleton; they will not intend to desert each other, but they will look upon it as a possible or a probable event; so they will give up trying to make the best of the partnership.

CENTRAL ARGENTINE RAILWAY.

Mr. Editor,

Surely the important letter in to-day's STANDARD will penetrate to some extent the "iron-clad intellects" of the London Board; and with your permission, as another "outsider," I will say a few words in support of "Ignotus's" views.

At the time of Lord, then Mr., Brassey's visit to this country in the year 1876, the following letter was published in the STANDARD on the 14th September.

As Mr. Brassey was a Director of the Company, I explained to him verbally that my object in writing the letter was to call attention to the management and to the incorrect reports published in London; and, if my memory serves me rightly, I then suggested to him to lay down a third rail from Cordoba to Rosario, in order to secure by means of the mixed gauge, the traffic from Tucuman; this was long before the present narrow gauge railway from Cordoba to Rosario was constructed or even thought of.

I also made the same suggestion to the Manager of the C.A.R., one of the investigating commtitee who recently visited this country, but was plainly told to mind my own business and not advocate in favour of narrow gauge railways, moreover that the C.A.R. would probably purchase the Tucuman line and change the gauge from narrow to broad!

It is to be hoped that «Boss" and «Ignotus's" letters may have a practical result in favour of River Plate railway employees; as I have myself been a victim of the injustice they so graphically expose, I can fully appreciate their kindly efforts.

James Haddock.

"In the Brazil and River Plate Mail of the 8th August, appears a report of the meeting of the Central Argentine Land Company, and an editorial article in relation thereto.

"In order to account for the unsatisfactory state of the company's affairs, several causes and remedies were suggested at the meeting held on the 31st July last, viz:—

"The wasteful and ruinous expenditure of the management. The unsuitable locality of the first colony established at Roldan, and the improper class of colonists sent thereto, being (sic) chiefly Swiss watch-makers and tailors. The use of 'Italian' seed wheat at the Cañada de Gomez, &c. The unsuitable material used for barn floors, viz., wood, bricks, mud &c. The improper cropping of the land without manure, with a suggestion that cattle should be kept in yards, as in England, in order to provide the requisite manure."

"With respect to the management, it has been very frequently eulogised in the newspapers, and referred to as a model for all other colonies in the Republic. How comes it that after so many years' experience it is now condemned as "wasteful and ruinous," and this apparently on the testimony of one person only? This sort of remedy has been already tried on the railway itself, with the magnificent result of reducing the value of the shares from twenty-one pounds sterling to thirteen!"

"With regard to the locality of the colony at Roldan, it does not require much intelligence to understand that, within walking distance of the terminus at Rosario, it is not well chosen, or likely to add much to the traffic receipts on the railway. It is, however, rather late in the day to have made this discovery, after having expended such large amounts on the colony.

«The so-called Swiss watch-makers and tailors were formerly considered to be model colonists; if not good farmers it is notorious that many have been successful in other ways, such as land speculation in the colony, etc.

«The first seed wheat sown at the Cañada de Gomez Colony some years ago was carefully selected in and sent from England; has it become Italianised by the climate?

"The discussion on the construction of barn floors must have been interesting at the meeting, and, doubtless, instructive to the farmers in England.

"With reference to cropping, the land here is generally considered to be too rich to require manure, and that the second or third crop of wheat is better than the first. At any rate, the costly process suggested at the meeting may be suitable in England, but not very likely to be adopted in the Argentine Republic.

James Haddock.

THE PASSIONIST FATHERS.

The V. R. Father Amadeus, C. P., who spent some time recently with the Passionist Fathers in this city, was sent to this country by the General of their order as his delegate, to make the Canonical Visitation of the houses of the Order in South America. Canonical Visitations form a part of the ordinary duties of the head of Religious Orders, being prescribed by the Canon law of the Church, which ordains that the Superior General visit at stated times either personally or by delegate the different houses of his Order for the purpose of informing himself of their exact status. This visitation was a source of much satisfaction and encouragement to the Fathers here, especially as the V. R. Visitor expressed himself as being most favourably impressed by the cordial relations existing between them and the English-speaking Catholics of this country. He declared himself rejoiced at the work the Fathers are doing for the spiritual welfare of the people, and encouraged them to continue their good work, doing all in their power consistent with the object and spirit of their Order.

He promised moreover to use his influence with the General of the Order to have a reinforcement of English speaking priests sent to their help. He desired also, as representative of the Superior of the whole Order, to express publicly his gratitude to the English speaking Catholics of this Republic for the generous support they have always given the Passionist Fathers since their first arrival in the country, promising in return not only a continuance of their work amongst them, but also a participation in the prayers and Masses which, according to their rules, the entire Order continually offer for their benefactors both living and dead.

In order to remove the erroneous impression that many have that it is a matter of great difficulty and expense to be received into a religious order, the Passionist Fathers wish to make it known that the only essentials for being received into their Novitiate are a good will to serve God, bodily health and sufficient mental capacity. Any youth over 15 years of age with these requirements will be welcomed by the Fathers at the Noviciate House, 3150 Calle Estados Unidos, Buenos Aires, even though he be without the trifling quota which is usually paid for first expenses. Applications by letter or otherwise should be made to the Superior, Very Rev. Father Constantine, C.P.—Southern Cross.

The above friendly match was played off in Rosario on Monday last, when the St. Andrew's suffered their first defeat this season by four goals to one. The St. A. arrived here minus their goal-keeper and a half-back, but able substitutes were found in Messrs. Cullen and Turnbull. As the visitors head the League Competition at present much interest was taken in this fixture by all footballers in Rosario; this also being the first Association match played there for about two years. The whole of the first half was very evenly contested, the result being two to one, in favour of the home team. With the wind in the second half the St. Andrew's ought to have scored, but with the exceptions of Bayne, Hughes and Caldwell, the whole team seemed to be out of form. Perhaps the journey the previous night and other causes did not tend to benefit the players much. For the home team Penman and Francis played a splendid defensive game, and with the help of Sydall in goal kept the St. Andrew's from scoring in the second half. Weir, half back, and Downes, forward, played a good game. For the losers, Bayne at full back was the only man who played a really consistent game all through, the others, after the first half, being completely done up. The Rosarian people were sadly disappointed in this match, as they really expected a better game from the St. Andrew's, especially after their performance against the Caledonians. However, the return match in Buenos Ayres will have a closer result, as the St. Andrew's will no doubt put a different team in the field.

The following were the teams:—

Rosario.

St. Andrew's.

Calder, Bayne, Waters, McIntosh, Turnbull, Morgan, Lamont, Caldwell, Hughes, McDonald, A. Buchanan.

BARRACAS ENGLISH INSTITUTE.

May 26th.

Mr. Editor,

As a subscriber to your valuable paper I should be glad if you would kindly put in a few words re the above. I have been a member of the Institute for about six years and have been surprised to see no notice or movement for a "ball" this season in the Institute as in former years, and I think most, if not all, of the members will side with me in saying that it is time the present Committee made a move in that direction, or stand the chance of losing a good many members who look forward to the balls.

Thanking you for this anticipated favor,

I beg to remain,
Yours respectfully,
An Interested Member.

OBITUARY.

The death on the 24th inst, at Lima Station, of James E. Gould, at the early age of 18 years. The deceased was guard for 2½ years on this line, and was much respected by the travelling public and his fellow employees throughout the line.

The funeral, which took place on Monday the 25th inst. at Zarate, was attended by many friends of the deceased, both native and English; and in the absence of a minister of the Church of England, the Burial Service was expressively read—first part at the Station by Captain Duechars of the s.s. Hellenes (Houston line) and at the grave by Captain Hargraves, of the s.s. Highland Lassie (Nelson Line), who lowered their flags half-mast as a token of respect. The coffin was covered by the Union Jack, kindly lent by Captain Duechars.

Numerous telegrams and letters were received by the deceased's father, including one from the assistant manager, from all parts of the line, and by many of deceased's private friends, expressing their sympathy at the sad loss the family had sustained.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

A general vote of censure on and want of confidence in the Clerk of the Weather was unanimously passed by all classes of society before breakfast on Thursday. Seldom has there been such a "sell" all round, as the day's programme was as select, varied and attractive as that of an amateur concert, and the cruelty of the Clerk in spoiling it was simply "inaudito" Personally, we'll never trust him again.

The Congress Deputies met yesterday, but did little business. Several petitions for subventions to churches were thrown out, and Deputy Mallea moved that the Executive send in immediately the estimates of next year's budget.

The Gold Eagle screamed and soared awfully yesterday, and what they will say of the bird in London is more easily imagine than described.

The last of the Naposta sufferers leave this morning for Entre Rios, to start on a new colony near Yerua. We sincerely hope that their troubles are now over and happier days in store for them.

A rumour of revolution in Mendoza was current yesterday, but not confirmed. Mendoza is so fond of grapes and revolutions that it may be true.

The Hurlingham Races, postponed from Thursday, will come off on Wednesday next.

Members of the B. A. Amateur Dramatic Club please take notice that the 17th performance will take place on the 4th June. See advertisement in another column.

To day, being Decoration Day in the States, Frank Brown's Circus Company will give a special performance by special request. The great Water Pantomime will be produced. The captains and officers of the U.S.S. Tallaposa and Essex have been specially invited to attend.

The auction of land at Zapiola by that very popular wielder of the ivory hammer, Mr Olmi, comes off in his mart in Calle Piedad to-night, not at 2 p.m. as first announced.

We call the attention of football players to the advertisement of the B. A. F. C. in another column, in reference to the match against Belgrano on the 31st. The following team will represent Buenos Ayres:—Back, C. Edmonds; 3 backs—F FJones, F Jacobs, A Anderson; ½ backs—H Crawford, H Plews; forwards—M Gilderdale, H Hemans, E George, C George, G Brodie, G Millar, Knight, Kruls, F Russell.

The Buenos Ayres Football Club won the match against Rosario on Thursday, by 1 try to nil. We hear it was a hard and well contested game and hope to give a full account of it in a day or so.

We take the following paragraph from the South American Journal, of May 2nd:—

"The marriage of Mr. D. A. Shennan, of Negrete, Buenos Ayres, with Lola Margarita, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parish, of 5, Gloucester Square, Hyde Park, was celebrated in Christ Church, Lancaster Gate, on the afternoon of Wednesday, in the presence of a large circle of relations and friends. Mr. George E. Welby, of the British Embassy, Madrid, attended the bridegroom

A step from the Plaza de Mayo, and close to the South Basin, surrounded with every convenience and very get-at-able, where property produces a good return, and its value must increase, on account of it being the locality chosen for establishing large deposits and houses of business, by reason of its facility of communication with the Port.
It offers a splendid business not only for speculators, but also for anyone who wishes to find a secure and profitable investment for his capital. A chance such as seldom offers, especially on account of the conditions of payment, which could not be more advantageous (half in money and half in cheques on the Provincial Bank), an opportunity which the depositors in this bank should not let slip.
Take note, therefore, you gentlemen with capital, keep in mind the extremely low price.
NOTE—Each purchaser, without exception, must pay 5 per cent seña at the time of purchase in guarantee of fulfilment.

The R.M.S. Magdalena left Rio on Wednesday for the Plate. The Elbe, of the same line, is announced to leave this port on June 24th.

A very curious business was talked of on 'Change to-day, and we understand that lawyers have been already engaged to take the matter to the Courts with a view to protecting the interests of the shareholders involved. It seems that some time ago a certain joint-stock concern, the shares of which, by the way, are quoted at a very low figure on the blackboard, sold to another joint-stock concern, the shares of which are not quoted at all, a certain concession of 32 square leagues of land for a sum of $100,000, more or less. The matter remained so for some time until, by some change in the board, an active shareholder got named director of the company which purchased the concession, and, looking up various matters, was struck by a clause in the minutes of the board meeting at which the purchase of the concession was approved. This clause stipulated that in the event of the titles deeds being found insufficient or with flaw, the purchasers waived all claim against the vendors. Now the original concessionaire happened to be a member of both the boards, and the clause being suspicious in the extreme, not only from its tenor but also from the fact of its being apparently interpolated in the minutes, an investigation was made, with the result that neither in the shoets nor in the transfer deed does such clause exist. The matter, which leaves room for comment, will soon be thoroughly ventilated.

As will be seen by advertisement in another column, after the 1st June the Provincial Bank will no longer receive its cheques in full payment of sums due to the establishment, but only in a proportion of 90 per cent. The remainder must be paid cash. The market will not view this proceeding with satisfaction, as, if the cheques are at a stiff discount already, they will be doubly so henceforward, since the demand must evidently slacken. The receipt in full was a well advised measure, as it provided a means of liquidating the deposits and «carteras» at the smallest sacrifice possible to the depositors and without prejudice to the bank; but the situation will now be more strained both for depositors and debtors, without affording any brilliant prospects for the bank itself. No doubt the step would not be taken without due cause and deliberation; but it would be well to strain the point as far as possible, to favour the already very prejudiced interests of the unfortunate depositors.

The sale is reported of 618 squares of land in Suipacha, splendid camp with «poblaciones» and fences, situated ten squares from the railway station, for 95,000 $%. Mr. Sensat, the buyer, was congratulated to-day on his purchase, which is considered by good judges to be a great bargain.

Mrs. Oromi de Cossio has sold her house in Calle Florida, between Cuyo and Corrientes, and built on 350 square yards, for $70,000, which gives $200 per square yard.

Cereal brokers arrived from Santa-Fe announce that province making great strides in production. Apart from the private production of owners of lands, of which there is no data, there are now 226 colonies and 77 towns all engaged in agriculture, showing an increase since May, 1890, of 14 colonies and 39 towns. The calculated return of the last crops is as follows:—

	Kilos
Wheat	501,281,700
Linseed	15,281,435
Barley	1,375,350
Beans	417,500
Mani	16,371,036
Potatoes	30,841,500
Maize	18,867,855
	Tons
Cana	264,440
Sorghum	66,760
Alfalfa	128,504

which should give a value of nearly 644 million dollars, or say nearly 344 millions more than that of the previous year.

We recommend Lord Mayor Bollini to read the following from the South American Journal, an re» tramway earnings in the Plate:—

«Three Buenos Ayres tramway companies will hold their meetings next week, and the tale to be told by the chairmen will be a melancholy one. The high gold premium and the bad state of business in Buenos Aires have seriously interfered with net earnings, and there seems to be much opposition to the proposed increase of fares, although it seems fully justified from the point of view of the shareholders. The Buenos Ayres and Belgrano Tramways Company consequently pays no further dividend, after having paid an interim dividend of 3 per cent. on the preferred shares in July last. The City of Buenos Ayres Tramways Company pays 1s. 3d. upon the fully-paid shares and 6d. upon the shares of the eighth issue. The Anglo-Argentine Tramways Company paid a dividend of 1s. per share in October last, and now merely carries a balance of £1161 forward. It would only be seasonable to authorize the companies to raise their fares, as they have to pay more for provender, wages, &c., apart from the loss in exchange; but the public in Argentina is not very reasonable, and, to judge from the difficulties experienced in Rosario, this will prove a very thorny question.»

Srs. AGAR, CROSS & CO., Calle Defensa 136.

Muy Señores Mios,

Tengo el gusto de comunicar a Vds. que las 4 maquinas de Esquilar sistema Wolseley me han dado un resultado satisfactorio y no queria darles este informe hasta no haber concluido con la esquila de borregas. La maquina trabaja bien, esquilamos con facilidad cualquiera oveja por mas fina y arrugada que sea: saca mas lana que la tijera y tiene la ventaja de no cortar, pero si en algunos casos rasguña descuidandose el esquilador. Estas 4 estim duras sanan facilmente, y se hacen cada vez menos cuanto mas practica se adquiere. No he notado que se me hayan muerto animales por esta causa.

Convencido de su eficacia pienso colocar doce aparatos para la proxima esquila y creo poder hacer facilmente el trabajo con ellos. Puedo asegurar a Vds. que los esquiladores mas torpes aprenden facilmente, prefiriendolas a la tijera.

Pueden Vds. darle la publicidad que gusten.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

CHLORODYNE.

The original and only genuine
Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, etc.
From Symes & Co', Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Lear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medecine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question wether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent, we could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Crampas, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation dury many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.
CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See the "Times." July 13, 1864.
Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelmning medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
CAUTION.—Befare of Piracy and Imitations.
